In particular, the decision on destruction will be made by officials from the Federal Customs Service, Federal Service for Veterinary and Phytosanitary Surveillance (Rosselkhoz nadzor), and Federal Service for Consumer Rights Surveillance and Human Well-Being (Rospotrebnadzor). Key Interest Rate Cut to Eleven Percent: On July 31, 2015, the Board of Directors of the Central Bank of Russia (CBR) lowered the key interest rate an additional 0.5 percentage points, to 11 percent. This most recent rate reduction followed a number of cuts made earlier this year that saw the rate decrease from 17 percent (introduced in December 2014) to limit a plunge in the value of the ruble. According to the CBR's press-release, the decision was based on the Bank's analysis that the risk balance has shifted toward a significant economic slowdown, despite higher inflation risks. The next CBR's Board meeting to review the key rate will be held on September 11, 2015.
