Report Name: Taiwan Finalizes Market Access for US Eggs and Egg Products

Country: Taiwan

Post: Taipei

Report Category: Export Accomplishments - Market Access, Livestock and Products, Sanitary/Phytosanitary/Food Safety

Prepared By: Erik Syngle

Approved By: Erik Syngle

Report Highlights:

On April 1, 2022, Taiwan notified the United States that it had successfully completed an audit inspection of the U.S. system for eggs and egg products. As of May 30, 2022, the United States has full market access to Taiwan for all eggs and egg products.

General Information:

On April 1, 2022, the Taiwan Food and Drug Administration (TFDA) notified the American Institute in Taiwan (AIT) that it had completed its audit of the egg system in the United States. The notification marks the completion of technical exchanges between Taiwan and the United States following up on Taiwan's in-person audit inspection of the U.S. egg system which took place in 2019.

TFDA announced its conclusion that the U.S. food safety and sanitation management system for eggs and egg products is equivalent to that of Taiwan. Effective May 30, 2022, all egg products from approved U.S. facilities are eligible for import into Taiwan. TFDA posted the plant listings for eligible U.S. facilities and other relevant information at the link below:

Disclaimer:

This report was prepared by the Agricultural Section of American Institute in Taiwan. While every possible care has been taken in the preparation of this report, information provided may not be completely accurate either because policies have changed since its preparation, or because clear and consistent information about these policies was not available. It is highly recommended that U.S. exporters verify the full set of import requirements with their foreign customers, who are normally best equipped to research such matters with local authorities, before any goods are shipped. Final import approval of any products is subject to the importing country's rules and regulations as interpreted by border officials at the time of product entry.
